Brendan not in attendance, no treasurer's report

Discussion about Peter Downhour attending the 5/7 meeting

Josh said Nette and Brendan are working on making the after school program scholarship eligibility more generous and expand the number of people eligible for scholarships. She will contact those who have been rejected in the past about the new eligibility requirements.

Someone Special Dance: Allison says we need clarification about the sales as attendance seemed comparable to last year

Spring Book Fair: Flyer will be generic, so whatever we get in reality is what we get. Teachers should be able to put together a wish list through a link We can start using our Scholastic Fair website April 3rd. Or come to the fair with their wish list. Jeff will try a test order to see about the shipping thresholds. Need an info card for volunteers to allow teachers to buy books with Scholastic Dollars at the fair. $8,822 in Scholastic Dollars. How much to allocate for teacher purchases/send a book home to everybody/schoolwide. 19 classroom teachers, 4 special ed teachers, 4 specials, 1 reading specialist, 1 math specialist. Scholastic Dollars don't expire.

Spring: Every teacher gets $100

Fall: Every student gets a free book, give kids a ticket and teachers would bring kids for a PTA pass to the book fair

Share the fair: communication goes out to all parents, use a scholarship form which would have student name, grade, teacher, generic fake e-wallet slip. Send out scholarship form by next week. Signup Genius for volunteers at the beginning of April. Share the Fair budget: $190

Save the Date for the Campout, Sunday, May 24th
